DETAILED ACTION

Abstract

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because misspelling and difficult to read because of "bleeding" of the text. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification is difficult to read with the amount of typographical or spelling errors and the "bleeding" of the text. For example, page 3, line 1; page 4, lines 1,6, 10-11, 19, 23-24 and page 5, lines 1, 4, 21 and so on throughout the specification.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

The claim is objected to because Applicant has not numbered the claim. Even though the disclosure contains only one claim it must be numbered accordingly.

The claim is objected to because of the following informalities: Applicant should consider adding more dependent claims from the original claim to better understand what the Applicant is disclosing. Appropriate correction is required.

The claim is objected to because it is replete with language and spelling errors. In addition, the claim is difficult to read because of the "bleeding" of the text.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "potentially" is vague and unclear in its meaning. It either does or does not contain anabasine. Clarification is needed.

The recitation "a trace am unt" (line 8) is vague and is not described in the specification. Clarification is needed.

Art Unit: 1654

With regard to the claim, the phrase "and the like" (lines 14-15) renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "and the like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Regarding claim 1, line 11, the phrase "for example" ("e.g.") renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation(s) following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bonte et al. (US 5,770,223).

Bonte et al. discloses an extracting process using Medicago sativa (alfalfa) with solvents such as methanol and ethanol, for example (column 2, lines 52-67 and column 3, lines 1-3). In addition, Bonte et al. also discloses the preparation of liposomes as a delivery vehicle for Medicago sativa saponin made from soy lecithin. Bonte et al. specifically taught that the liposomes were, on average, 125.2 nm which is considered a micro-emulsion absent any clear definition of "micro-emulsion" in the instant specification (see Example 7, columns 7-8).

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wolfson et al. (US 6,534,527).

The applied reference has a common invention with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

An herbal composition to relieve cravings and withdrawal symptoms in nicotine dependent person who is abstaining or reducing the nicotine intake is claimed, for example.

Wolfson et al. expressly teach using an herb or herbal extract for use to abstain or withdrawal from nicotine which contains the ingredients as listed in claim 1 (see claims 1-4).
